

Today we have opened the C2C2C24 registration gates, so sweep up what remains of your hale and hearty New Year resolutions and screw them to the sticking place, to misquote Will from Warwickshire.

If it helps have a few wines / beers / gins with your colleagues and make wild promises about how you are going to smash it this year and get lots of witnesses so that when the hangover subsides you will magically discover that you have committed yourself and would look a bit of a plonker if you were to pull out (sounds familiar? explains more than one of my past escapades, so you'll be in good company).

Our aim is still to make this the best 100 mile event for the rider and we are squirrelled away ticking boxes, filling forms and unknitting red tape that is the sheer unadulterated joy of sorting out the plans for this year's ride on 27/06/2024. The route will be based on what it should have been last year if they hadn't kept shutting roads on us.

More in the next mailing on our chosen charities for this year but suffice to say they are local and the money will be spent locally.

2023 saw us sell out in record time so get in early and secure your place. No-one who witnessed your bold pledge to conquer C2C2C will believe you when you say you missed the cut and you will have to wear your badge of shame for another 12 months. Save yourself the embarrassment and register in time.
